

The Tsuju Fund for Student Success Application

This fund was established in memory of Andrew M. Growden for the purpose of supporting current students at the Adrian Campus of Siena Heights University in their need to achieve success professionally, specifically with an emphasis on Career Services. Examples of successful applications include professional dress attire for interviews, educational materials (outside of textbooks), and participating at professional development conferences and/or job fairs. Applications received by October 15 and March 15 are considered each academic year.
